

Magnibot

Wireless Distance Camera Bot
for iOS, Android, Mac & PC

The NEW Magnibot from Trysight is a wireless battery-powered robotic distance camera that is perfect for the classroom. Connect the Magnibot to an iPad, Chromebook or any device with a web browser and control the camera wirelessly from that device! There are no cords to hassle with and setup is a breeze!

Use the powerful optical zoom for crystal-clear magnification across the classroom. When connected to the Magnibot an intuitive touchscreen menu will appear on student's device. This touchscreen allows students to control magnification, contrast and brightness. They can also use the arrow keys or touchscreen gestures to pan around the room for a better viewing angle. It's that easy! There is no training necessary so it works great for students of all ages!

Magnibot

Wireless Distance Camera Bot for iOS, Android, Mac & PC

The Magnibot is completely wireless so it can be placed anywhere in the classroom. Students can use their favorite device such as an iPad, Chromebook or laptop to control the camera and learn alongside their peers without looking any different.

Best of all, Magnibot can act like a router in addition to a low vision device. This means while you're using Magnibot, you can still remain connected to the school wifi network to access coursework.

When class is over, just disconnect the antennae, place the Magnibot into its protective carrying case and take it to the next class.
